EARLY HISTORY OF HONG KONG

The history of the Hong Kong community is really much longer than the history of the territory itself. It begins with the arrival of the first Europeans, the Portuguese, on the China coast, in 1513, and in the problems they faced in trying to establish commercial relations with China, where the main current of authoritative opinion was traditionally not interested in foreign trade.

By dint of persistence, the Portuguese were allowed to establish themselves at Macao, in 1557, but when the British and Dutch reached the Far East, in the first decade of the 17th century, they found their way blocked by Chinese refusal to deal with any Europeans other than the Portuguese. Operating from their base at Bantam, in West Java, the East India Company first established a trading factory near Nagasaki, Japan (1613-23), but it proved a commercial failure and was closed down. Beginning with the Weddell expedition in 1635, a number of British attempts were made to open trade with Canton, Amoy, and other Chinese ports; but it was not until 1700 that regular British trade with China began, as a result of a change in Chinese policy, permitting trade with countries that did not acknowledge China as suzerain.

From then on, European trade with China developed steadily, with the British as the principal European nation concerned. From about 1705 the East India Company had a house in Canton, but Europeans were obliged to quit the city during the off-season. Other European Companies and individual traders soon solved this problem by renting houses in Macao, a practice which, though strictly against Portuguese law, was tolerated. In 1773 East India Company followed the example of other nations and established themselves permanently in Macao, the Company's officers proceeding to Canton for each trading season.

Trade with the Chinese was conducted through a Chinese monopoly guild, charging prices far in excess of market values, and itself subject to ruthless extortion by corrupt officials. Two British diplomatic missions, in 1793 and 1816, failed to obtain better treatment of British merchants in China, or a better basis for international trade; and little change might have been expected had not the East India Company's charter been abolished, in India in 1813, and in China in 1833. These changes were the direct result of the acquisition of power in Great Britain by a new class, owing its wealth and influence to the Industrial Revolution, with free trade as its commercial doctrine. The China trade fell firmly into the hands of those independent merchants who, while the East India Company remained in power, had had only limited chances of showing their capability.

The British led the way in demanding that the Chinese Government provide Europeans with a port, where they could be free to trade with whom they wished, under their own laws. Finally, on the long-term issue of proper treatment for foreign traders, and on the more immediate issue of the import of opium into China, war between Great Britain and China broke out (1839-42). In the course of this, the Emperor's negotiator with a British plenipotentiary, Captain Charles Elliot, R.N. provisionally offered the island of Hong Kong as a trading depot. This offer was immediately accepted, and without waiting for its confirmation the British occupied the island in January 1841. The cession of Hong Kong to the British Crown was confirmed by the Treaty of Nanking, 1842. From the start, Hong Kong was declared a free port, open to all comers, and thus it has grown into one of the world's greatest international trading centres.

In 1860, by the Convention of Peking, Kowloon and Stonecutters' Island were ceded to the Crown; and in 1898, by another Convention of Peking, the area known as the New Territories was leased to Great Britain for 99 years, thus bringing the territory to its present size.

HONG KONG

Prior to 1841 there was no recognised name for the island of Hong Kong. The anchorage at Aberdeen was known to sailors as Heung Kong. The Chinese characters representing the name may be translated by "Fragrant Streams" or "Fragrant Harbour." Another possible rendering is "Heung's Harbour," the haunt of a notorious character named Heung.

Kowloon is the anglicised form of the Chinese Kau Lung (nine dragons). This name is derived from the ridge of nine hills which form a rampart along the northern side of the harbour and seem to guard the approach to China.

A book entitled "China" published in 1847, contains a chapter with the following heading: "Hong Kong, its position, prospects, character and utter worthlessness from every point of view to the English." To-day one laughs at that prophecy. However, when it was written there seemed to be reason for such gloomy forboding for the place had an unenviable reputation for rainstorms, typhoons, pirates, prisoners, malaria, dysentery; etc., and in England contempt for the new colony was expressed in the then popular song, "You may go to Hong Kong for me."

To-day this formerly despised possession is one of the world's busiest ports, and for an eastern city is remarkably clean, peaceable and healthy. As one writer remarks: "Hong Kong is a splendid example of what can be accomplished by energy and capital associated with the courage and restraint that go hand-in-hand with British colonisation. Over 100 years of patient administration by 25 governors and 12 administrators have brought Hong Kong into the front rank of the world's commerce. This happy achievement is due in no small measure to the harmonious working of to two such different peoples as the British and the Chinese."

Hong Kong International Airport is situated on the North shore of Kowloon Bay, three miles from the centre of Kowloon. Regularly used by 31 international airlines which provide frequent services throughout the Far East and to Europe, North America, Africa, Australia and New Zealand. In addition there are many charter airlines using the airport, from which scheduled domestic helicopter services are also operated.

The airport makes Hong Kong an important link on the air routes of the Far East, with its 8,350 feet long, 200 feet wide runway built on a promontory of reclaimed land extending south east into Kowloon Bay. It is now being extended to 11,130 feet.

As an international civil airport, it offers full operational facilities, with high and low intensity approach, runway and taxiway lighting, and hazard beacons located at strategic points. Special high intensity "strobe lights" are installed at the south east end of the runway promontory and at various points on the approaches to both runways to aid pilots in condition of poor visibility.

The whole system is integrated with long and medium range surveillance radar, an instrument land system and various radio navigational beacons.

The terminal building which came into use at the end of 1962 has since been extended to accommodate the increased number of passengers passing through the airport. The freight building has also been extended to provide additional accommodation for the steadily increasing cargo traffic.

In 1972-73, 49,917 aircraft arrived and departed on international flights carrying 3.05 million passengers 3,863 metric tons of mail and 84,550 metric tons of cargo.

Hong Kong's domestic exports totalled HK$15,245 million in 1972, an 11% increase over 1971. The main export markets were U.S.A. (40%); U.K. (14%); and West Germany (10%). Textiles and clothing accounted for 50% of total domestic exports. However, diversification into other sectors of light manufacturing industry is gathering momentum and factories are now firmly established for making a wide variety of electronic products, clocks, watches, toys, metalware, footwear, wigs, umbrellas, cameras and travel goods. Heavy industry includes ship-building, ship repairing, iron foundries and mills rolling steel bars and rounds. Agriculture, fishing and some mining are the main primary industries.

The climate is sub-tropical and monsoonal. Winter is cool and dry; summer hot and humid. The mean daily temperature ranges from 15°C in February to 28°C in July. The average annual rainfall is 85 inches, three quarters falling between May and September.

Few places can show such a variety of games and recreations. Golf, tennis and yachting are popular all the year round; football (rugby and association), cricket and hockey are played in the winter months; in the summer lawn bowls, lawn tennis and baseball are played, and perfect bathing is enjoyed. The Jockey Club hold a three-day annual meeting every February in addition to the many other race meetings throughout the season.

In Hong Kong East meets West. The latest from London, Paris and New York can be found cheek by jowl, with all the alluring work of the Orient. If one wishes to travel in town one may do so by motorcar, taxi, bus, tram and rickshaw, while in the harbour motorboats, ferries, launches and sampans are at one's disposal.

The provision of an adequate water supply has always posed difficulties because Hong Kong has no large rivers or underground supplies. In 1963, a 5,390 million gallon reservoir at Shek Pik on Lantau Island was brought into use. Water from it is pumped to Hong Kong Island along eight miles of submarine pipeline. To keep pace with increased demand during the 1960s, Hong Kong embarked on the Plover Cove Scheme, the first reservoir in the world to be formed by damming, draining and restocking a sea inlet. The initial phase of this project, completed in 1968, provide a storage capacity of 37,000 million gallons. The final phase, completed in 1973, raised this capacity to 51,000 million gallons.

Even bigger than Plover Cove, but which follows the same concept, is the HK$1,348 million High Island Scheme which will seal both ends of a sea channel between High Island and the mainland peninsula of Sai Kung. On completion in 1979 this reservoir will provide a storage capacity of 60,000 million gallons. As High Island will be the last potential reservoir even using these extreme methods, Hong Kong began constructing the world's largest desalting plant in 1972. It will begin producing 40 million gallons of fresh water daily from 1975. Hong Kong also purchases more than 18,000 million gallons of water annually from China.

Hong Kong boasts two universities, a Polytechnic and a technical institute, secondary and primary schools, numerous places of worship, modern hospitals, 100 cinemas, and the finest golf course (at Fanling in the New Territories) in the Far East.

Hong Kong has a large and active press. At the beginning of 1973 there were 288 publications of various kinds listed by the Registrar of Newspapers. Of these, 101 were daily newspapers. The remainder were mainly magazines.

Government-owned Radio Hong Kong broadcasts separate Chinese and English programme services on AM and FM. It is financed from general revenue and carries no advertising. Commercial Radio broadcasts three services on AM, two in Chinese and one in English.

Television Broadcasts Ltd. transmits commercial television in English and Chinese. In 1973 the Government awarded licences for two more television stations. Rediffusion (HK) Ltd., who had previously operated a commercial wired television service in English and Chinese, was a successful tenderer and announced that it would switch to its new wireless service in December 1973. The other licence was granted to Commercial Television Ltd., a consortium which will set up a single channel station broadcasting only in Chinese by 1975, so giving Hong Kong its third TV station.

Administration

The Government of Hong Kong derives its constitutional authority from Letters Patent and Royal Instructions issued from time to time and is administered by a Governor assisted by an Executive Council and a Legislative Council. The Executive Council, which is consulted by the Governor on all important administrative matters, includes the Commander, British Forces, the Colonial Secretary, the Attorney General, the Secretary for Home Affairs, the Financial Secretary (who are members ex-officio), and such other members, both official and unofficial, as may be appointed. At present there is one appointed official member and eight appointed unofficial members.

The Legislative Council consists of the Governor as President; not more than fourteen official members, four of whom, namely, the Colonial Secretary, the Attorney General, the Secretary for Home Affairs and the Financial Secretary, are ex-officio members; and not more than fifteen unofficial members, who are appointed by the Governor. The procedure of this Council, by which all legislation is enacted and all expenditure from public funds is approved, is based broadly on that of the House of Commons.

TROPICAL CYCLONE PLOTTING MAP

You may use this map for recording the movement of a tropical cyclone, by plotting the estimated positions of its centre from the latitude and longitude values contained in broadcast warning bulletins. These values are given to the nearest tenth of a degree and the precision of the plotted position often will be higher than is warranted by the accuracy of the fix. Therefore, small erratic movements indicated on the plotted track should not necessarily be interpreted as real movements of the tropical cyclone.

SIGNAL	DISPLAY		MEANING of the signal	What will happen and what you should do
	Symbol	Lights
STAND BY	1		WHITE WHITE WHITE	This is a stand by signal indicating that the tropical cyclone is a potential threat to Hong Kong. Listen to your radio for warnings and if necessary remain on call.
STRONG WIND	3		GREEN WHITE GREEN	Secure hoardings, scaffolding, temporary structures and all loose objects, particularly on balconies and roof tops. Clear gutters and drains. Take full precautions for the safety of boats. Ships in port normally leave for typhoon anchorages or buoys. When the wind becomes strong it may affect some ferry services, particularly if the piers are exposed to the wind.
NW'LY GALE OR STORM	8 NW		WHITE GREEN GREEN	All schools and law courts close and ferries will probably stop running at short notice. Windows and doors should be bolted and shuttered and full precautions must be completed as soon as possible. It is extremely dangerous to delay precautions until the hoisting of No. 9 or No. 10 signal as the latter are signals of great urgency. As the winds increase, stay indoors to avoid flying debris but if you must go out keep well clear of overhead wires and hoardings.
SW'LY GALE OR STORM	8 SW		GREEN WHITE WHITE
NE'LY GALE OR STORM	8 NE		GREEN GREEN WHITE
SE'LY GALE OR STORM	8 SE		WHITE WHITE GREEN
INCREASING GALE OR STORM	9		GREEN GREEN GREEN	These signals imply that the centre of a severe tropical storm or a typhoon will come close to the Colony. If the eye passes over there will be a lull lasting from a few minutes to some hours but be prepared for a sudden resumption of destructive winds from a different direction. The tide will probably be higher than normal particularly in narrow inlets. If this happens near the time of normal high tide then low lying areas may have to be evacuated very quickly. Heavy rain may cause flooding, dangerous rockfalls and mudslides.

LEASED CIRCUITS

These are telegraph or speech circuits with places overseas provided for the exclusive use of a customer on a rental basis.

Subscribers' equipment for leased telegraph circuits are similar to, but more elaborate than, that used for telex. Operating procedure is comparable, except that the connection to the distant destination is permanent (or on an agreed schedule basis).

Further information, including charges, are obtainable from the Commercial Department, New Mercury House.

ABRIDGED RULES

1. ORDINARY TELEGRAMS

Rates as shown subject to a minimum charge as for 7 words.
The text of an ordinary telegram may be written in Plain Language or in Secret Language or in a mixture of both.

PLAIN LANGUAGE. Telegrams written entirely in Plain Language are counted at the rate of 15 letters to the word. Commercial marks, exchange quotations, etc. are counted at the rate of 5 characters to the word.

SECRET LANGUAGE. Telegrams written entirely in Secret Language are counted at the rate of 5 letters or characters to the word.

MIXED LANGUAGE. Telegrams written in a mixture of Plain and Secret Languages are governed by the rules of counting for Plain and Secret Language above.

2. URGENT TELEGRAMS

Priority of transmission and of delivery may be obtained to places where urgent telegrams are admitted by writing before the address the paid service instruction —Urgent—, which is counted and charged for as one word. The rate for urgent telegrams is double ordinary rate, with a minimum charge as for 7 words.

3. LETTER TELEGRAMS (LT)

Rates as shown subject to a minimum charge as for 22 words.
The text of a letter telegram must be written in Plain Language. Letter telegrams must bear before the address the paid service instruction —LT— which is counted and charged for as one word. The delivery of letter telegrams shall take place after 0800 o'clock local time, on the morning after the date of deposit.

4. SOCIAL TELEGRAMS (GLT)

Admitted within the British Commonwealth only.

Rates as shown subject to a minimum charge as for 10 words.
The text of a social telegram must be written in Plain Language and be of a social nature.

Social telegrams must bear before the address the service instruction —GLT— which is not charged for but is counted as one word in the number of words shown in the preamble.

Social telegrams may be addressed to a registered address.

5. PRESS TELEGRAMS

Press telegrams may be sent at reduced rates.

They may contain only material for publication, radio sound or television broadcasting. They must not contain any passage, announcement or communication having the character of private correspondence, nor any advertisement.

Comments relative to the publication or broadcasting of the telegram are admitted, but the number of words thus added shall not exceed 10 per cent of the total number of chargeable words in the text, and shall not exceed 20 words.

The minimum charge for a Press telegram is as for 14 words.

6. RADIOTELEGRAMS

Telegrams exchanged with ships at sea through Coast Stations are subject to the normal telegraph charges to the country in which the coast station is situated, increased by the respective coast and ship charges for the radio transmission. Letter Telegrams are not admitted.

7. PREPAID REPLIES

The sender of a telegram may prepay a reply from his correspondent in those countries which admit this facility, by writing before the address the paid service instruction —Reply Paid— or —RP— followed by the amount prepaid for the reply. This instruction —RPx— is counted and charged for as one word.

The voucher can only be used to pay for a telegram within a period of three months following the date of its issue.

8. REPEATED OR COLLATED TELEGRAMS

Repetition of a telegram may be obtained on payment of an additional charge equal to one half of the full ordinary rate to the same destination and by inserting before the address the paid service instruction —TC— which is counted and charged for as one word.

9. MULTIPLE-ADDRESS TELEGRAMS

The addresses of a telegram to be sent to several addresses in the same town or to one and the same addressee at different addresses in the same town, should be prefaced by the indication —TM— followed by the number of addresses, for example, —TM4—. The telegram, including the addresses, is charged for as a single telegram, but a copy is prepared for delivery to each address. The copying fee is as follows:—

Destinations	Per copy not exceeding 50 chargeable words	Each Additional 50 words or part thereof
British Commonwealth . . .	$1.80	$0.90
China	1.00	0.50
Other countries	1.80	0.90

This service is not available for Commonwealth Social Telegrams (GLT).

10. DE LUXE TELEGRAMS (LX)

Senders of telegrams to certain countries indicated in this tariff can, if they wish, have their messages delivered on a special decorated form.

Delivery on a “de luxe” form in any of the countries specified is secured by writing the paid service indication —LX— in front of the address. The indication —LX— is chargeable as one word and in addition to the normal charges for the telegram a supplementary fee of $0.60 is payable. In multiple address telegrams, the indication must be written before each separate address, and the supplementary fee collected in respect of each address. The service is available for all classes of public telegrams.

DEFINITION OF PLAIN LANGUAGE

1. Plain Language is that which presents an intelligible meaning in one or more of the languages admitted for international telegraph correspondence, each word and each expression having the meaning normally assigned to it in the language to which it belongs.

2. By telegrams in plain language are meant those of which the text and signature are wholly in plain language. The character of a telegram in plain language is not changed by the presence of:—

- (a) Numbers written in letters or figures, groups composed either of letters or of figures, or of figures and signs, provided that these numbers, groups and signs have no secret meaning;
- (b) Proper names, arbitrary or abbreviated addresses;
- (c) Abbreviated denominations of international or national organizations, including business undertakings, in the form of initial letters combined as one group;

- (d) Commercial marks, trade marks, designations of goods, arbitrary technical terms used to denote machines or parts of machines, reference numbers or indications and other expressions of the same kind, provided that these marks, designations, technical terms, reference numbers or indications and expressions are shown in a catalogue available to the public, or in a price list, invoice, bill of lading or similar document;
- (e) Groups denoting house numbers, registration numbers or letters of motor vehicles, designations of ships, aircraft or railway trains as well as flight and train numbers; groups clearly representing money, ordinal numbers, indications of time of day; and groups representing exchange or market quotations, or scientific formulae;
- (f) Abbreviated expressions in current use in ordinary or commercial correspondence, such as fob, cif, caf, svp, or any similar expression;
- (g) A single check word or check number placed at the beginning of the text and not exceeding five letters or five figures in length.

DEFINITION OF SECRET LANGUAGE

1. Secret Language is formed of:—

- (a) Artificial words composed exclusively of letters; such words must not exceed five letters in length;
- (b) Arabic figures, or groups of Arabic figures having a secret meaning;
- (c) Real words belonging to one or more of the languages admitted for telegraph correspondence in plain language which are not used with the meaning normally assigned to them in the language to which they belong and consequently do not form intelligible phrases;
- (d) Other words or expressions not fulfilling the conditions laid down for plain language;
- (e) A mixture of the words and expressions mentioned in a. b. c. and d.

2. The mixture within a single group of any combination of letters, figures or signs which has a secret meaning shall not be permitted.

3. By secret language telegrams are meant those containing in their text or signature one or more words in secret language.

ENQUIRIES

All enquiries regarding received or transmitted telegrams should be accompanied by the telegram itself or by the receipt for the transmitted telegram and can be made at any of the Company's counters or at the Customer Relations Office, New Mercury House, Telephone No. 5-245055.

BUSINESS CONTACTS

Assistance in obtaining business contacts in other countries will be given on application to the Commercial Department, New Mercury House, Telephone No. 5-245055.

COLLECT OR TRANSFERRED ACCOUNT FACILITIES

“Collect” and/or “Transferred Account” facilities enable travellers or agents to file telegrams to their principals or business associates without prepayment of the charges.

“Collect Cards” can be issued by the Company in Hong Kong, and will be honoured in most countries of the world. Further particulars can be obtained from the Customer Relations Office, Telephone No. 5-245055.

TELEPRINTER SERVICE (PRINTERGRAM)

Teleprinters may be rented from the Company at an inclusive fee, which covers normal installation and maintenance. The monthly rental depends on the nature of the service for which the Teleprinter is used, details of which will be supplied on request to the Telex Controller, Telephone No. 5-245055.

TELEX SERVICE

The Telex service provides a means of communication in printed form between subscribers, a printed copy of the message being produced on teleprinters at both the sending and receiving installations.

The service is available even if the distant teleprinter is unattended, provided that the teleprinter power remains switched on. The message will then be available for attention when the distant office opens.

Further particulars can be obtained from the Telex Controller, Telephone No. 5-245055.

PHOTOTELEGRAMS

Pictures, photographs, drawings, plans, printed, typed or written matters, documents in longhand or shorthand, are accepted for transmission. The service is available only to those countries where a rate is shown below.

Make up for Transmission

The matter to be transmitted should be on one side of the paper only, which should be capable of being rolled, and should not be larger than 25 by 23 cms. (10 x 9 inches).

Suitability for Transmission

Photographic tones can be satisfactorily reproduced, but black printing, writing or drawing on a white ground are best for reproduction. Coloured printing and faint or indistinct pictures are not suitable for transmission.

The Company reserves the right to decide whether the matter submitted is suitable for transmission.

INTERNATIONAL VOICECASTS

Transmission and reception of Programmes are undertaken by the Company over the normal International Telephone Service. Studio accommodation and tape recording facilities are available. In order to take account of the circuit preparation and exchange of service communications necessitated by such transmissions, the minimum chargeable duration of a programme transmission is ten minutes. Full details may be obtained from the International Maintenance Centre, Telephone No. 5-245055, Ext. 278.

HONG KONG SUMMER TIME:

Clocks are advanced one hour on the first Sunday after 15th April and retarded one hour on the first Sunday after 15th October.

AIR MAIL AND AIR PARCEL SERVICES FROM HONG KONG

General Information

In general the limits of weight and dimensions and other conditions (except postage rates) prescribed for surface mails, apply also to articles to be sent by air. Particulars are available at any Post Office of those categories of articles which are prohibited transmission owing to their dangerous nature.

Countries are divided into four zones according to distance for the purpose of charging air postage on letter mail. The air postage rates for letter mails to the four zones are shown in the table below:

Zones	Letters (each $\frac{1}{2}$ oz.)	Postcards (each) Second Class Mail (each $\frac{1}{2}$ oz.)
1	50 ¢	25 ¢
2	$1.30	65 ¢
3	$2.00	$1.00
4	$2.50	$1.25

A BLUE AIR MAIL LABEL, obtainable free at any post office, should be affixed to all air mail correspondence at the top left hand corner on the address side. Or you may write the words BY AIR MAIL boldly in the same place, but the label is more likely to catch the sorter's eye.

AEROGRAMMES (Air Letter forms) may be sent to all countries at a uniform rate of 50 cents. Enclosures are not permitted. You may get the special forms at Post Offices or use privately-manufactured forms which bear a statement that they have been approved by the Postmaster-General with the approval number. Unapproved forms will be treated as ordinary air mail letters.

SECOND CLASS AIR MAIL. Printed papers, Small Packets, Blind literature, etc., sent by air must conform to the regulations for such articles apart from those relating to weight steps, and must be clearly marked in the upper left hand corner of the cover for the service intended, "Printed Papers", "Small Packets", etc. Such items must not be sealed against inspection and must not contain anything in the nature of a current letter.

INSURED LETTERS AND BOXES may be sent by air to the countries indicated, subject to the same regulations as insured letters and boxes sent by surface. The normal insurance and registration fees are payable in addition to the letter air postage rate in the case of insured letters, and in addition to the second class air postage rate in the case of insured boxes. Insured boxes are subject to the minimum charge of $1.50 plus the insurance and registration fees.

AIR PARCELS may be sent by air to the countries shown, subject to the general regulations applicable to surface parcels as regards weight limitations, customs declarations, despatch notes, compensations, etc. Insured parcels are accepted for the countries indicated. A blue air mail label must be affixed to the address side of the parcel and to the despatch note.

EXPRESS service is available for airmails and air parcels to the United Kingdom only.

CORRECT POSTAGE ESSENTIAL. Please make sure that the correct postage is paid: underpaid airmail items may be sent by surface route and suffer delay.

(The services and charges set out below are liable to change. Up-to-date information may be obtained at all post offices).

If you want to go shopping in Australia, the Trade Commissioners can save you the price of a ticket.

Australia is a market of opportunity for buyers in Hong Kong. Hundreds of Australian products sell in the region. Ranging from brass extrusion rods to pollution control equipment. How to share in this profitable business? Phone the Australian Trade Commissioners. They're employed full time by the Australian Government to give you on-the-spot help with importing from Australia. They can show you the great advantages Australian suppliers offer businessmen in Hong Kong. Whatever you want to buy, Australia offers you speedy delivery, keen prices and the kind of quality that gets good sales. And you can do it all without leaving Hong Kong. Phone the Trade Commissioners on 5-227171, now.

SIGN OF THE TIMES

For almost 150 years, the Jardine thistle has stood for all that's progressive in business throughout Asia.
To trade in the Far East
you need experience; we have the contacts, and the years have been our experience. We know the area as it knows us, and that knowledge is yours for the asking.
